SUMMARY

Fullstack Developer with strong expertise in the React, Next.js, and Node.js ecosystem . Experienced in architecting scalable web applications, from designing relational databases with PostgreSQL to implementing responsive frontends based on complex designs . Proven ability to build complex logic like reservation systems and custom admin dashboards in collaborative, agile environments .

WORK EXPERIENCE

Fullstack developer , IV Future SRL   2022 - Present

- Engineered a multi-tenant food ordering platform using MedusaJs and Next.js, featuring complex reservation logic, group ordering systems, and a custom inventory management admin panel
- Developed a flexible checkout flow for restaurant dine-in services, enabling users to claim specific items from a group bill and choose between digital in-app payment or physical payment at the location.
- Designed modular backend services using Express, TypeORM, and PostgreSQL, establishing a reusable API core and repository pattern used across multiple internal projects to improve development
- Transformed high-fidelity Figma prototypes into pixel-perfect, responsive React components, ensuring 100% design fidelity.
- Collaborated effectively with teammates to meet deadlines for tasks managed in Jira or Redmine.
- Conducted thorough testing and code reviews to ensure proper implementation of features and code structure within the application.
- Implemented secure phone number authentication flows utilizing Firebase and Send SMS, ensuring robust user verification for the application
- Automated content deployment by architecting a Builder.io and Next.js boilerplate, reducing setup time for new marketing pages
